LEGACY GOODNESS WITH THE GOODMAN FAMILY

Juice

By Candice Wiener

The Goodman family arrived in Vegas in 1964. Our community has never been the same since. Caryolyn Goodman was originally from New York, and Oscar came with a law degree from University from Pennsylvania to work for the Clark County District Attorney.

Oscar started his own practice defending the likes of many well-established Vegas mobsters. During his career as a criminal defense attorney, Goodman represented defendants accused of being some of the leading organized crime figures in Las Vegas, such as: Meyer Lansky, Nicky Scarfo, Herbert "Fat Herbie" Blitzstein, Phil Leonetti, former Stardust Casino boss Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal and many more.

After his infamous career, Oscar decided he wanted to really imprint himself on Las Vegas, and he decided to run for mayor. Oscar was busy trying to see how he could help turn the Las Vegas downtown area into something more inviting like the Gaslamp District in San Diego. Mr. Goodman won his election against the odds and almost as soon as he started, he tried to get pro sports teams to come to our city too. However, his efforts were diffused by the casinos that preferred patrons stay in the casinos to gamble, overlooking the real value that professional sports teams would bring to the casinos.

Eventually Oscar was able to help facilitate the deal for Zappos to come in and help revamp downtown. $350 million was committed to downtown real estate. Mr. Goodman had served full term as mayor in Las Vegas, which was when it was time to pass the torch to his lovely wife, in a never seen before spouse succeeding a spouse as mayor in the US.

Mayor Carolyn was celebrated and welcomed as Mayor of Las Vegas when she commenced on her duties and priorities as mayor. Las Vegas flourished under the leadership of Mayor Carolyn Goodman, and she inspired support in our local community and encouraged locals of our incredible city to help advocate for the wonderful people of Las Vegas and make some significant changes to benefit Las Vegas, our local economy and countless other initiatives.

- Opened All American Park in the Northwest

All these incredible achievements and more shows how Mayor Carolyn has truly impacted our local community. She is the REAL deal!

The positive affect this family has had on Las Vegas is insurmountable. A Magnificent Man such as Oscar Goodman paved the way for his woman who certainly wows, Carolyn. They are now some of the most influential people to Vegas as we know it today and we are forever grateful for both their leadership and commitment! I am honored to have met with them both personally, having had the one-of-a-kind Real Vegas experience of sitting on their couch in their living room, talking to Mayor Carolyn Goodman and chopping up sports talk with the former Mayor, Oscar Goodman. Their legacy and hard work in our community has most definitely made their mark and shows how their family paved the path as a well-deserved Native Juice topic.

Happy Holidays and Happy New Year from Our family to Yours!

From the Publisher's Desk REAL

Candice Wiener

With the holidays upon us, it's always a great time to reflect on the past year. We are exceptionally grateful for the positive results and things this year has yielded us for the magazine and our team. We overcame some objectionable and offensive challenges that came our way since our inception of the magazine! In the words of Pitbull, "if you're not getting hated on, you ain't doing sh*t right." Well, I like the saying, "if you're not being hated on, you're not doing it right." Nonetheless, the 2 remain the same and we're simply thankful for all the love, light and support which is where we'll maintain our focus and we'll continue to operate our publication and company from faith, gratitude, and love.

Additionally, I am personally very excited to announce the newest addition to our team, my oldest daughter, Bailey Wiener. She has left her previous career path as a manager in the cannabis sector to join our tribe. Having grown up in the print media and event industry, side by side with me during her adolescence, she brings a fresh perspective and super positive work energy to the team, and we are excited to have her on board! Please be sure to say hi and introduce yourself if you have yet to meet her and you will see what a pleasant disposition she has and the vast amount of knowledge she's acquired and keep gaining as she continues to blossom personally and professionally with the magazine and all our events!

We are super excited about the year ahead and all that 2023 will bring to our magazine family, clients, friends, readers, writers, photographers, contributors, and our entire Real Vegas Tribe! It's always such an honor putting together every single issue. We work diligently and super hard to ensure to bring you the best relevant content that we hope you enjoy. This issue we are proud to highlight 2 of our newest contributors that you most likely know of, Mr. Brian Ross Burnham and Mr. Real Vegas Ricci, (Ricci J. Lopez). Brian is an amazing conversationalist who will be interviewing a special person each issue in his own fun and innovative way, and we know both he and the interviewee will have a good time each casual conversation interview that he conducts. Ricci J. Lopez of Macceo (inside Aria Resort & Casino) will accept questions about fashion for his audience that he will be cultivating within the pages of the magazine, and we very much look forward to his fashion tips for each issue.

We are honored to feature the 2022 Leading Lawyers of Las Vegas in conjunction this issue with the 2022 Most Magnificent Men in Las Vegas. These are real men in our local community that we encourage you to keep an eye on! As is with each issue, this year's Leading Lawyers and Most Magnificent Men "The Lists" were no easy enterprise! With more than thousands of nominees submitted and growing each year, we learned so much about so many incredible legal elites and magnificent men in our community! We certainly hope you enjoy this issue as much as the hard work that goes into putting it all together! Please be sure to follow us on social media @realvegasmagazine to stay tuned for some great upcoming events we will be hosting in 2023!

Q&A WITH LOCAL CELEBRITY CHEF VIC VEGAS

Owner of Sinful Subs & Black and Blue Diner

RVM: What's your go to Thanksgiving dinner meal look like?

CVV: It used to be the traditional Italian--meaning the classic American Thanksgiving with the lasagna on the side. But now half the table does not want turkey and is anti-turkey. So, we keep all the classic sides, but the main attraction is good old classic "prime rib". And of course, we start the meal off with my mother's yellow onion soup with homemade croutons.

RVM: And for Christmas dinner?

CVV: Funny to say, we never have "Christmas dinner". We have Christmas breakfast, but we are so full from the classic Italian 7 fishes the night before on Christmas Eve, it's all about the gifts and the breakfast with some good leftovers on Christmas Day. The "Christmas Eve Italian 7 fishes" is the Italian version of 7 of your favorite shellfish dishes with a few other classic Italian seafood items in between. It's such a big feast where there isn't anybody cooking but pancakes, eggs and all the breakfast goods on the day of Christmas.

RVM: What is your favorite holiday side dish?

CVV: Definitely the homemade stuffing/dressing. Because there are no 2 alike and the 1, we have is almost "holy" - from my grandmother's hands to our stomachs! It's some of the greatest stuffing on this earth.

RVM: What entree/ dessert would you bring to a work holiday party?

CVV: Usually, if I'm not cooking the meal at someone's house, most likely I am "asked" to bring some trays of "Sinful Subs" from SinfulSubs.com.

RVM: Eggnog or hot chocolate?

CVV: Hot chocolate all year, but a good solid week in December, I will go for the nog. Plus, there's nothing like eggnog bread pudding.

RVM: What's the first thing you purchase when preparing for a big holiday dinner?

CVV: Disposable pans people! Disposable pans! You will not regret it, lol - (Nothing like cleaning after a turkey coma)!

RVM: What are necessary kitchen tools for the holidays?

CVV: A good carving knife because everyone usually has the basic essentials but the nicer you can slice that protein, the better it's going to be for the entire meal.

RVM: What's your least favorite holiday foods?

CVV: That is a tough one... Ok, my least favorite holiday foods are.... "pass" lol!

RVM: What do you expect to be the biggest culinary trends for this holiday season?

CVV: Definitely the "no turkey", nontraditional Thanksgiving that people are doing. Especially many of the local chefs doing amazing, twisted meals that are not Thanksgiving-ish that still fulfills the Thanksgiving palette.

RVM: Most underrated seasoning in the kitchen?

CVV: Granulated garlic! Many people think garlic powder is where it's at. Please toss your garlic powder and get yourself some granulated garlic today!

RVM: What do you do with your holiday leftovers?

CVV: I'd say a good 2 days of eating it... Putting it on bread, dipping it in gravy, maybe making a soup. But definitely a good 2 days of simply "eating it".

RVM: Best cooking tip for the holidays?

CVV: Start prepping 2 days before and try to clean as soon as you can! Besides doing all the cooking and getting all our restaurant customers ready thanks to Nicholas and Company Food Distributors, my suggestion would be the same, be sure to order from the awesome Nicholas and Company in advance to prepare for your holiday prepping and cooking with the highest quality of foods that they bring from the truck to the table!

RVM: If you could have any other chef help you make the perfect holiday dinner who would it be?

CVV: I know a lot of the known chefs out there and love many, but I'm going to say "Gordon", lol. Would have to have Ramsey over at the house. He would have a good time! Plus, I don't think they would hear his yelling over the yelling in my house especially when the elders join us.

RVM: What makes food so important to you?

CVV: I have a 100+ answers to this, as food is my life, but I will simply that food is the 1 thing we all have in common that can bring most people together... and I'm grateful for being heavily vested in that.

RVM: If you're preparing a NYE meal for guests at your home, what would the menu look like?

CVV: We would have to have some caviar and champagne to further discuss this. Simply because we'd be tasting caviars and champagne that we'd be serving that night in addition to all the beautiful lobster, seafood, and dry aged meats. It's New Year's my friends! And we are Real Vegas people, so we have to show everyone else who we are! #VegasStrong

Real Vegas is Turning up the Heat this Winter Season

Introducing and Welcoming Our Newest Celebrated Team Member

Meet the Real Bailey Wiener
Account Executive and Marketing Coordinator

The smell of the heat turning on, the fire burning, a hot cup of coffee in the morning, smell of pine needles, all nestled in with a comfy blanket on the couch, thick socks, the building excitement of the change of weather, and with the holidays right around the corner; we have something to look forward to. The fall & winter seasons in Las Vegas are unbeatable in my opinion. It's with great honor and joy, I am pleased to announce that I joined the Real Vegas team earlier this year! I've learned so much about the power of print, the importance of a solid network, and most importantly, that family goes much further than blood. Real Vegas has shown me how a quality integration of genuine people together in our local community can really change so much.

I've been blessed to experience real and quality connections of my own and the people around me. I've been fortunate to connect with people who provide so much value and support in my life within our Real Vegas tribe. Being able to see our local community come together has been so inspiring.

In this issue we are featuring the Most Magnificent Men and the Leading Lawyers of Las Vegas. When I was 12 years old, I joined the Clark County Bar Association's Trial by Peers Program. I spent an entire summer learning how to litigate, and took an age appropriate mock bar exam. Soon after, I started defending cases for juveniles who committed first time misdemeanor offences. This program was paramount to my development, helping me to develop a strong level of confidence, wonderful and interpersonal public speaking skills. This is one of the main reasons I am thrilled to be coming on board for this issue, which is our Leading Lawyers in conjunction with Most Magnificent Men of Las Vegas special feature issue.

Reading through all the nominations this issue made my heart so full. The impact these special people have on the Las Vegas community is insurmountable, and I am so glad to be on this winning team! I grew up in the magazine business, watching my family throw events and even huge expos, but what we are cultivating at Real Vegas Magazine is extremely special. The content of this magazine brings the community together by showcasing the people who make a real difference, and for the right reasons! Once you start to develop and grow both personally and professionally, you begin to heal yourself, help heal your family, friends, community, and this is what ultimately changes the world. One real relationship at a time. A heartfelt thank you to all the people who've helped make this year 1 that I personally will never forget. I am eager and excited about my future with this avant-garde publication and looking forward to connecting with so many great people in our Vegas community!

Please be sure to follow us on social media: @realvegasmagazine and join us at 1 of or more of our amazing upcoming events we have in store for 2023! Wishing everyone love, light & prosperity for an incredible 2023!

Casual Conversation with Brian Ross Burnham

Meet the Lovely

Rachel Horton

I remember the very first time I met the stunning Rachel Horton. 10 years ago, she walked into this party I was attending and she immediately lit up the room. Classy, beautiful, funny, and engaging. I said to myself "I have to know this woman." Of course, we bonded on the spot. Her husband Dallas Horton is a pillar of the legal community. Rachel also plays an essential role in the success of their law firm G. Dallas Horton & Associates. Besides Dallas being one of the top successful personal injury attorneys in town, he along with Rachel, spend much of their free time giving back to the local community. They're involved in many charity events as well as hosting numerous fundraisers for countless politicians and judges. The Horton "Dynamic Duo" also has a definitive pulse on the social scene here in Las Vegas. There's no objecting to that fact. But besides all of this they have 4 beautiful daughters between them from previous marriages, as well as a niece daughter, who they love, adore and support 100%.

BRB: One of the many traits I love about you is that you're so positive thinking, straight forward with a superb sense of humor. How's that for buttering you up? Hahaha!

RACHEL: Well, I must say you're doing a great job so far! I love to laugh and smile! Makes life fun.

BRB: Well, what can I say? I know you so well. I don't know what to ask you first.

RACHEL: That could be tough! So much to talk about! Let's talk about family.

BRB: Ok. Family is always good. I'm determined to find out something new.

RACHEL: Hmmm. OK. Well did I ever tell you I have 9 siblings?

BRB: Good God!!! ?? I knew you had a lot. Didn't know it was 9. You are truly a Real Vegas local. Your family has a lot of history here. By the way, see what I just did there? "REAL VEGAS". Hahaha!

RACHEL: Haha! That was very good. That's me. "REAL VEGAS" born and raised! My parents came to Las Vegas in the 60's on their honeymoon and settled here. My dad was a bartender at the Stardust until he passed away in 1997. My mom stayed home and raised us until she acquired her teaching degree from UNLV and taught high school English.

BRB: I adore true Vegas locals. Most of them are down to Earth, genuine, cool and kick back.

RACHEL: We had to be. Vegas was run by the mob. Hahaha!

BRB: Oh my God. That's true. The good old days. Hahaha! You and Dallas have such a close, intimate, amazing relationship. What's your secret?

RACHEL: It's so simple really. We love each other very much. But most importantly we have a great deal of respect for our relationship and our family.

BRB: I've known Dallas for ages. I've never seen him happier than he is since meeting you.

RACHEL: Oh my. Thank you so much. That's so sweet. Dallas and I were very lucky when we met. We met as friends and became best friends and fell in love! I love being married to my best friend.

BRB: Awwwww! I know you both love to travel as well. You just got back recently from Jamaica for your anniversary. How was that trip?

RACHEL: Jamaica is so special to us! It is a magical place! We have been every year since we started dating (except during the pandemic). We even renewed our vows there! So, celebrating our 5-year anniversary in Jamaica was a must!

BRB: You also contribute and have a key role in the success of your husband's law firm. G. Dallas Horton & Associates.

RACHEL: Fortunately, Dallas has attained many multimillion-dollar settlements and verdicts. So, he is very easy for me to sell! He's so good at what he does!

BRB: He most definitely is. In addition to this I know you have also been involved in the healthcare industry. Tell me about that.

RACHEL: 1 of my sisters has a rare disease and is disabled. In caring for her, I realized the importance of home healthcare and the difficulty families have in getting info on how to obtain home healthcare. Most importantly I learned how important home healthcare is for both the patient and the family caring for the patient.

BRB: That's awesome. I love your sister Tisa. She has such a superlative sense of humor.

RACHEL: Yes, she does. My dad had a great sense of humor. We were taught if you're not laughing at life, then you're not living it right. Laughter has always been a huge part of us.

BRB: Laughter is the key to life. I wish I would have known your dad. He sounds like he was a wise man. So, what gets you out of bed in the morning? What's your passions and drives you each day?

RACHEL: My family 100%!

BRB: You have a magnificent family. Between you and Dallas, you have some extraordinary daughters. I know you both are very proud of all of them.

RACHEL: Pride is an understatement. The oldest just gave us our 1st grandbaby. Our 2nd oldest just graduated with honors from TCU. We expect great things for the next 2 as well. They are all on their way to greatness. Our youngest is a senior in high school and our middle daughter has her own skin care line!

BRB: Ok. My favorite part. Rapid fire question time.

RACHEL: Ok. I'm ready for the rapid fire. Shoot.

BRB: What's your favorite color?

RACHEL: L'Oreal 9G

BRB: Oh my God. Hahaha!! Blondes do have more fun.

BRB: Who is your favorite designer?

RACHEL: Chanel!

BRB: That's my favorite Channel on TV. Hahaha. Best local Vegas hangout?

RACHEL: Charlies Lakeside.

BRB: Who's your favorite husband? Hahaha!

RACHEL: Dallas! The best husband I ever had! Hahaha! (Dallas is my second husband)

BRB: What's in your purse right now?

RACHEL: Credit cards, driver's license and lipstick. Boring, I know lol.

BRB: I remember 1 time you had my Hermes belt buckle in your purse. That wasn't boring. Hahaha!

RACHEL: Yes. Guarding it with my life. Hahaha!

BRB: I thank you again so much for guarding that. Hahaha. You are absolutely amazing. Always a blast and never a dull moment hanging out with you.

RACHEL: We always have a good time! We have the same sense of humor, and you make me laugh!

BRB: Good Gawd!! I concur. Right back at you darling!!!

Beauty Really is Skin Deep

Up Close and Personal with Kevyn Aucoin Cosmetics

By Lissette W
lmi.edu

L's Q&A with Nick Lujon Director of Artistry & Education for Kevyn Aucoin Cosmetics

Kevyn Aucoin is one of the most iconic and celebrated makeup artists of all time. He advocated for education, empowerment, inclusion, and creativity for all. But it was his exuberant optimism and personality that endeared him to all the celebrities who have sat in his chair. He'd talk about heartbreak and life, and how he thinks every woman was beautiful. His trade was makeup, but it was his friendly demeanor and charisma that made him a legend. "The best thing about him doing your makeup is that it allows you to spend time with him," Gwyneth Paltrow once said.

Naomi Campbell, Cher, J Lo, Julia Roberts, Cindy Crawford, Christy Turlington, Kate Moss, Molly Sims, Julianne Moore, Linda Evangelista, and Whitney Houston are among his many celebrity clients.

Kevyn Aucoin's remarkable beauty transformations left a giant footprint in my heart and soul of imagination and what could be. He is what inspired me to become a makeup artist.

On my rise in the industry, I had the opportunity to come across talented artists in Las Vegas.

Nick Lujon is one of those people. He is a professional makeup artist, team leader, trainer, and educator with over 15 years of experience in the industry. Nick is widely recognized for his unique approach to coaching & developing artistry in others, as well as his artistic ability to flex and blend styles within the beauty, editorial, creative, and FX world. I am so grateful to have him not only as my peer but as a great influencer in the makeup education field.

L- What should the new generation know about Kevyn Aucoin?

He not only painted the faces of some of the world's most famous women, but he was the first makeup artist to be featured on the cover of Vogue and was featured on countless fashion magazine covers, authored 3 bestselling beauty books (The Art of Makeup in 1994, Making Faces in 1997, and Face Forward in 2000), and earned the nickname "Michelangelo of maquillage." Kevyn also helped to popularize the "sculpted" look of many celebrities and top models, putting the contour category on the map and forever changing the beauty industry. "Kevyn invented so many things that we look at today as just stuff that exists," said Isaac Mizrahi. He continues, "He was a brilliant experimenter who took risks. Long before there were YouTube makeup tutorials."

L - Why did Kevyn Aucoin create his own Cosmetic line?

Aucoin was working backstage and creating iconic looks and products for many of today's top brands. This prompted Kevyn Aucoin to launch the heritage makeup artistry brand KEVYN AUCOIN BEAUTY in 2001, which has a cult-like following to this day. Today KEVYN AUCOIN BEAUTY continues his legacy with rich storytelling, iconic products such as Sensual Skin Enhancer, The Eyelash Curler, Volume Mascara, The Sculpting Powders, and The Precision Brow Pencil. These are just a few of the most popular products.

L- What can you tell us about the Cosmetic Line?

The newest line of "Contour Eyeshadow Palettes", was inspired by the methods of sculpting that Kevyn taught to the world. The shadows are set up with 3 matte sculpting shades and 3 reflective shades to create dimension to the eye area. Always start by using matte shades to base and add depth to the eye area. Finish by adding reflective shades to make the eye area stand out. There are 4 palettes with pro-artist-curated shades to be the perfect fit to your skin tone.

L – What are some of your favorite Kevyn Aucoin products and why?

This is tough, I have so many favorites, but there are 3 products I could not survive without.

1. The Sensual Skin Enhancer- this is a concentrate of pigment that can be sheered into a skin tint or built up to cover tattoos. It is versatile and waterproof. Shade 9 is my go-to for covering my dark circles.
2. The Eyelash Curler- this curler has been in my makeup kits since I started doing makeup. It is the perfect size and shape to fit most eye shapes comfortably and provides the best results for instantly curled lashes. The red pad helps to see where the skin stops and the lash root starts, for the closest application.
3. The Volume Mascara- this is a tubing formula that starts natural but can be layered for extra drama. The small brush is perfect for smaller eye shapes, hooded lids, and reaching the impossible to reach lashes with precision. The best part is it stays on all day without flaking or traveling and can be removed easily with warm water and a gentle rub. In my Vegas days, this was my go-to for bridal work and party makeup.

Check out their incredible makeup line on their website: kevynaucoinbeauty.com

FIRM SCULPT AESTHETICS

Meet the Executive Director and Gentleman Behind the Brand, Sebastian Cruz

Sebastian Cruz was born and raised in Mexico City, Mexico, and immigrated to Las Vegas in 2017. His mother was a single mother of 2 children and always told and inspired him to dream big and high. Throughout his life, he has cultivated inspiration from his surroundings and experiences. From having his first child at the young age of 17 and immigrating to the US, all these accomplishments have shaped Sebastian and prepare him for the next phase of his life.

"I've learned that your surroundings don't dictate your outcome. Determination, patience, and will are what determine your outcome," says Sebastian.

He adds, "Leaving a legacy for my child and family is what inspires me. I aspire to be as full of life and hope as my mother, who is the rock upon which my hope and will are built. I believe in business; the highest courage is to dare to be yourself in the face of adversity. Choosing right over wrong, ethics over convenience, and truth over popularity. These are the choices that measured my life. Traveling the path of integrity without looking back, for there will never be a wrong time to do the right thing for all your clients." For Sebastian's next phase, determination and patience have led him to be a co-creator, and the Executive Director of Firm sculpt Aesthetic awake liposuction, fat transfer and skincare brand, specializing in advanced FDA approval technology and customized treatments with top-rated brands in the beauty industry like InMode technologies, including the HydraFacial, Zo skin health, the Skin pen and more.

Their mission and vision are simply to deliver the highest and best results that last forever. Firm Sculpt was founded on believing that results matter for any woman and man. In fact, in the world of aesthetics, it's the only thing that matters because that is what patients are looking for and deserve as the end goal results, they want to achieve! Patients who are looking for a truly rejuvenated and custom experience can find exactly that at Firm Sculpt Aesthetics.

Their approach to meaningful consultations and skin assessments ensures that each patient is given a personalized recommendations based on individual skin concerns and goals and presents a lasting commitment to your body. Firm Sculpt Aesthetics believes that confidence is sexy, and they aim to help you achieve the highest levels of confidence, ultimately resulting in feeling sexy and empowered in your everyday lives! Their services are designed to provide the best results, giving patients the ultimate satisfaction.

Sebastian continues, "In the past, skincare for men was a virtually non-existent and taboo subject. There were not many products or services that have been marketed toward men. As a result, many men have not taken good care of their skin, specifically their face. However, I've benefited from having a good skincare routine including regular appointments with an esthetician. More now than ever, we are focusing on self-care. For men, that self-care regimen should also include a skincare routine.

Our overall goals are to help both women and men meet their skincare and aesthetic desires. We strive to help both men and women look and feel their best and most-confident selves."

Winter

By Ricci J Lopez

Must Haves in Las Vegas

Las Vegas is located in the heart of the Mojave Desert. Because of this, the summers are scorching hot. The 2022 summer season saw record-breaking heat waves that lasted much longer than "normal." Locals are desperate for cooler weather. I speak for myself when I say that winter fashion allows for layered looks and much more options. There are key essentials that every man needs in his wardrobe to accommodate for the fall season (especially when traveling to colder climates). Some of those essentials happen to be some of the current trends we are seeing for 2022-2023 Winter Menswear.

The Pea Coat:

The Pea coat has been around since the 1800s and was adopted by The Royal Netherlands Navy and was popularized by the US military. The coat was needed to withstand the harsh weather conditions while at sea. Fast-forward to Fall/Winter 2022 and the Pea coat continues to pop up in today's mainstream fashion and has been seen on the runways of many fashion houses for Fall '22. A vast array of colors with bold and wide shoulders are trending so don't be afraid of the light blue, royal blue, and pink pea coats.

The Varsity Jacket:

The iconic varsity jacket can be traced all the way back to Harvard University in the year 1865. Harvard's baseball team at the time was the first known group of students to sew large old English "H" patches onto their uniforms. The uniform was a gray flannel pullover. The embroidered "H" was sewn right onto the center of the sweaters. Soon to be known as "letterman sweaters." Cardigans then gained traction. And, by 1930, the Varsity Letterman jacket we know today was born. We are currently seeing luxury fashion houses like Dolce&Gabbana, GIVENCHY, Louis Vuitton, and VERSACE, all with their own versions of the letterman jacket. The common denominator would be several different types of patches, bold branding, pops of color, and embossed sleeves.

Turtlenecks:

Turtlenecks were typically worn by knights who needed the high necks to prevent rashes and chafing from their chainmail and helmets. As time progressed mostly laborers, athletes and seamen wore them. The main reason was because of the convenience of the built-in scarf-like protection and still for work purposes. Turtlenecks have made a huge comeback and have been trending for several seasons. They are elegant and when worn correctly they can elevate any casual look. Turtlenecks as a trend are seen most with formalwear, suits and sport coats.

Track Suit:

The first introduction of the tracksuit properly began with French company Le Coq Sportif's development of the 'Sunday suit' in 1939. Fast forward to 1967 and a suit was designed to be worn on the track. Viewed as a very practical outfit. It was ADIDAS's first interest in clothing and was a collaboration design with German footballer Franz Beckenbauer. Today, tracksuits can be seen everywhere and worn by everyone. Wearing a tracksuit is effortless and designers like GUCCI and FENDI have set the precedent for exuberant fabrics and designs that make them coveted by luxury consumers.

Ben Moshe & Stein

Top Notch Humanitarian and Legal Elite

Meet Michael Stein of Ben Moshe and Stein

By Candice Wiener

When I think of a solid and genuine hearted man in our local community, right away I think of Michael Stein. I first met Michael Stein around 10 years ago as I was helping a family member navigate through some hard-pressed family legal woes.

My family member was married to a prominent CEO in town with strong connections in the Las Vegas legal community and well versed on gaming the legal system by obtaining consultations with the top family law practitioners to create a conflict of interest with them all. We basically hit a brick wall on finding the right attorney. Making matters worse, my family member was suffering with financial and health problems.

We realized few lawyers were not conflicted out of representation, willing to work for discounted rates or on a pro bono basis, and not intimidated to take on the powerhouse law firm we were facing. I knew there had to be competent representation out there who would see the injustice and take on this complicated case.

So, we made an appointment at the Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada. The intake and case workers worked hard to find an attorney who was not prohibited from taking on the assignment because of a conflict of interest and willing take the case on a pro-bono basis, but no one would take on the powerhouse law firm. That's when we met Michael Stein who was a partner at Snell & Wilmer at that time. Michael was clear with us that family law was not his practice area and that he would need to review the statutes and case law to get up to speed. He let us know he would need help since the case had been ongoing and he primarily practiced business and real estate law and commercial litigation. Michael told us that any associate who helped him would do so voluntarily as well. We were thrilled to meet Alison Krieser who agreed to work with Michael on the case and on a pro-bono basis. Today, Alison practices corporate law and is a partner with the prestigious law firm Katten in its Dallas, Texas office.

Supported by Snell & Wilmer, Alison and Michael simply got to work without hesitation, studying the proper case law, statutes, and case files. Alison and Michael litigated and achieved an unexpected favorable outcome. Watching them during the depositions and in court, it became readily apparent that Alison and Michael were not only fearless advocates for what's right, but they always maintained professionalism towards witnesses, opposing counsel, and the court. It was so refreshing to see such professionalism. Michael was like a guardian angel and didn't feel intimidated in the slightest bit, even with no family law experience! Not just a professional relationship, but even more so a respected personal relationship was developed from this circumstance.

Since that occasion, I know firsthand that Michael has taken on difficult cases on a pro bono basis to address injustice including one in 2022. He dedicated hours of time to the case resulting in a favorable outcome for his pro-bono client. Michael Stein, having earned a prestigious Martindale® AV Preeminent rating from his peers and judges, is one of the most brilliant and ethical attorneys I have ever had the pleasure of working with in Nevada.

Michael and I stayed in touch throughout the years. I enjoyed seeing his posts on social media spending time with his three daughters Mia, Daria, and Gia, seeing his youngest daughter, who he often calls "The G," develop into a beautiful young lady, and the trips and journeys they share. As much as law and family life are Michael's passions, he also has a deep love for the arts. Over 10 years ago, with the support and encouragement of many including his former law firm Snell & Wilmer and partner Steven Yoken, Michael created Paint the Town™ — an annual one night only "pop up" fine art gala benefiting local charities. Michael believed artists should be compensated for their original works of art whether involved in a charity event or otherwise. A core principle of Paint the Town™ is that all participating artists receive a generous part of the proceeds from the sale of the artist's pieces, the rest benefits a local charity. By cutting out the fees that would normally flow to an art gallery, Paint the Town™ creates a "win-win-win" experience for the artist, charity, and art enthusiast. You can learn more about Paint the Town™ on its Facebook and Instagram pages and at pttlv.com.

Recently, I caught up with Michael to discuss the business environment surrounding today's practice of law and Paint the Town™ and to catch up on his family life. He invited me to join him for "an artsy fartsy coffee beverage" at one of his favorite local coffee roasters on the west side. I was aware that he had recently settled a major lawsuit he took on a pro-bono basis and I wanted to ask him about that experience. Litigators generally have Type A personalities and Michael fits that category. But he is a different kind of Type A personality. He doesn't like to talk about himself, his firm's achievements, or his cases. He prefers to talk about the law as a profession, his charity event Paint the Town,™ and his daughters.

During our visit, he shared with me how surprised he was when The G recently told him she wants to practice Muay Thai kickboxing. He never thought she meant it, but he said she loves going. We also discussed the diversity of his family. He shared with me how his twin daughters, Mia and Daria, couldn't be more different yet they are very close. Mia is a certified public accountant and senior finance manager at Zappos. Daria owns her own hair studio in Henderson –Daria Does Hair – specializing in hair coloring, balayage, ombre, and extensions.

After 10 years with Snell & Wilmer, Michael left for the corporate world becoming corporate counsel for a large real estate company. After being in the corporate world, he returned to the private practice of law and formed Ben Moshe & Stein with his partner Amit Ben Moshe. Michael explained that Amit and he share the same philosophy about client service – listen to your clients. Before undertaking an assignment, they strive to understand their clients' business, industry, and the trends affecting success and risk management. According to Michael, "this approach enables us to better help clients solve problems, recognize opportunities, achieve goals, and deal efficiently and effectively with an ever-changing economic, business, and legal landscape."

Michael and I also discussed how the practice of law is rapidly changing. And although billing, communication, and time management remain at the forefront of client concerns, law firms face new problems and challenges after the outbreak of Covid-19. Lawyers and staff worked from home and don't want to return to the office setting, new lawyers are demanding a better work/home balance, seasoned lawyers are suffering fee earner burnouts, and both depositions and court appearances are more often done by video conferencing. Technology has changed how documents and data are stored and accessed, and the way research is now conducted requires lawyers to possess a stronger working knowledge of technology and software. According to Michael, "the pen and yellow pad are almost obsolete." Clients have strong digital expectations from their law firms. According to Michael, the future of legal practice management mandates strong case management software systems which offer a broad range of functionality to let lawyers embrace the online world and satisfy client needs for timely information.

When the conversation turned to community, Michael's eyes lit up. Because of Covid-19, Paint the Town™ took a 3-year break. With a big smile on his face he announced, "you are the first to know that Paint the Town™ is coming back in 2023!" Over the past couple of years, Michael, Amit, and past committee members have discussed how to improve the event and it sounds like it will be a smash hit when it returns! I know I am certainly looking forward to attending. To learn more about Ben Moshe & Stein, visit the firm's website online at bmslawlv.com

HEIDARI LAW GROUP P.C.

TRIAL LAWYERS

Sam Ryan Heidari

Pincipal of Heidari Law Group, Sam Ryan Heidari wanted to positively impact the civil liberties and rights of his clients and was inspired to becoming a leading lawyer in Las Vegas in an effort to achieve just that. Sam migrated to the U.S.A. as many other immigrants who moved to the U.S.A. with a passion and drive to help others at a very early age. Sam grew up in a country in which he states, "was pale in comparison to our legal system in the States." This gave Sam even more drive to excel at a top attorney in his field. Sam started out practicing in business litigation; however, he quickly realized that this did not satisfy his strong desire to positively impact the lives of individual citizens.

Heidari Law Group's clients are people that have been hurt, injured and/or had their personal rights infringed upon. Sam truly feels that helping people who endured hardships like these is his calling in his legal practice and his career. Heidari Law Group bases their service off "competent and ethical lawyering."

Heidari Law Group isn't your typical law firm. They pride themselves in the 3 D's: Diligence, Determination and Dedication. According to Sam, the 3 words that embody the core values at Heidari Law Group, P.C., in the courtroom, the conference room and out in public. Heidari Law Group sees clients through step by step from A to Z.

They are not what they'd refer to as a personal injury "mill". They are not a trial-only firm, when they take on your case, if it needs to be litigated, they handle the litigation from drafting the lawsuit, all the way to the final judgement after trial. It's a substantial commitment to the client, but for Heidari Law Group this is a part of what sets them apart from other firms that pass off specific tasks and don't see the clients' cases from start to finish. At Heidari Law Group, they take the idiom "protecting the clients' best interests" very seriously. When you're looking to hire a personal injury attorney, Heidari advises that one should thoroughly do their due diligence.

“ If the attorney is practicing in the field of personal injury and charges you a consultation fee, that's a red flag for me ”

"If the attorney is practicing in the field of personal injury and charges you a consultation fee, that's a red flag for me," states Heidari. While this approach isn't unethical, personal injury clients are often unable to work, dealing with expensive and accruing medical bills, and are under great psychological pressure as well. The last thing they need is to have to pay a consultation fee upfront to speak to an attorney initially about their case. It is this protective "watchdog" mind state and commitment to best practices that makes Heidari Law Group one of the fastest-growing law firms in Nevada, with a track record of recovering millions for their clients.

Heidari Law Group currently has multiple trials starting in both Nevada and California, and their lawyers are already in that "full-court press" state of mind. Also, they continue to look toward and focus on expansion to be able to bring more of the competent, ethical representation from which they have become known. They already serve clients in Las Vegas, Sacramento, and Orange County, but they never take their eyes off the ball regarding when and where they can protect the rights of the people in general.

We commend Heidari Law Group, P.C. for being a beacon of hope for the vulnerable and unguarded, and a champion for the rights of those who are suffering.

Simply put, Heidari Law Group puts the "personal" in personal injury representation. It is no wonder then, that Sam Ryan Heidari has achieved multiple accolades including being recognized as a 2022 Leading Lawyer of Las Vegas.

Recent case results prove their competence for assisting you with your injury when you need them most!

Experience, determination, and dedication – Stabile Productions Inc. for your continued success.

Matt Stabile

It's hard not to envy a man like Matt Stabile. With his beautiful wife and partner, Angela, the duo shares creator/producer credits for some of the sexiest adult entertainment to hit the Las Vegas Strip in recent years: the sultry and successful "X Burlesque" and Piff the Magic Dragon. Matt has been in the entertainment industry his entire life. He worked for entertainer and philanthropist, Jerry Lewis during high school and college. Matt received a full music scholarship at UNLV and later went on to work for 20th Century Fox in the television development production department.

Frank Sidoris

Proudly born and raised in Las Vegas in a show-biz family, (Frank's mother is Angela Stabile, producer of X Burlesque/X Country/Piff the Magic Dragon), Frank has been the rhythm guitarist for Slash featuring Myles Kennedy & The Conspirators over 10 years and is most recently on tour with Wolfgang Van Halen's band Mammoth WVH. Frank has recently become the new owner along with his partner Robby Cunningham of the historic Downtown Las Vegas bar Hard Hat Lounge located near the Arts District.

Anthony Cardella

From his first dance class at age 9, Anthony knew his passion for dance would lead to a successful career in this field. Anthony was accepted into the Las Vegas Academy of Performing Arts. Upon graduating, he was offered a position to teach dance at the prestigious school. While teaching there for the next 5 years, Anthony began choreographing. Angela Stabile and Tiffany Mondell met Anthony when he was only 10 years old when Angela and Anthony's Mom Pudgy! worked in the same revue. Anthony was brought on board with Stabile Productions Inc. to choreograph and manage their shows in 2007. He has choreographed all Stabile Productions Inc. shows and continues to prove year and year that he is at the top of his field. Recently he was made Co-Producer for Stabile Productions Inc.

Magnificent Mack of Miller & Associates Consulting

Remember the show "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous"? Well, meet Mack Miller, a father of 2 beautiful girls, a loving husband, son, brother, and a visionary who has changed our community for the better.

Mr. Miller's mission is to provide top tier representation to both the top 1% income earners and those working to get there. "We build dream-teams for all of our clients!" says Miller. It comes as no surprise that after all of that, he takes his water sparkling and not flat!

Mr. Miller has a serious penchant for charity and building a strong community here in Las Vegas, using his affiliates from Paris and Shanghai to Beverly Hills and Detroit. Mr. Miller has hundred-million-dollar projects for his well-heeled clients seeking to either take over a company, sell a gypsum or gold mine, introduce a celebrity or band, or import products from descendants of royal families in Britain. He also helps small business startups and advocates for local parents at school board and County Commission meetings.

Sometimes the latter can be a dangerous job, for example when he was knocked unconscious last year during a Clark County Commission meeting.

But he was born to be an advocate. When he was 17 years old, Mr. Miller ran for city council and managed grassroots campaigns for Nevada State Senate. In 1993, he founded the Clark County Bar Association's Trial by Peers program. The program teaches youth to respect our community and law enforcement. Young people also learn how to litigate real cases for juveniles who commit a first-time misdemeanor. Mr. Miller was the first and youngest youth attorney/counselor in Nevada to try a criminal case through the Trial by Peers program. During closing arguments at trial, he was quoted saying "The law is not just about punishment, but about living in society."

Miller and Associates Consulting was established over 25 years ago to help bring people where they want to be and where they need to be. Mr. Miller is called upon to help provide creative strategies to just about any problem, because he is a man for the people. He doesn't argue one side, he argues for what is right.

Mr. Miller sits on the Board of Directors of various non-profits, and community organizations that benefit the well-being of all people. He has been a compliance officer, Vice-president and currently a local President and United States Representative for the Chinese American Citizens Alliance and is the National Chairman of the Republican Chamber of Commerce. He advocates for various causes, supports multiple community organizations, and has many accolades and media features for his dedication to the people of Las Vegas.

Mr. Miller is working on his book to share his secrets about being a successful entrepreneur, because he knows that working for oneself gives a person the ability to dedicate time to causes and people that need it.

His office is decorated with honorary certificates, challenge coins from various military and law enforcement leaders, and an American flag that has flown over the U.S. Capitol. He supports law enforcement and American values. He consults with PEC Finances, a non-profit that works with veterans going through a Salvation Army Service program designed to teach financial literacy and help them get back on their feet.

Proudly displayed on his desk is a plaque with the quote, "The man who walks with God always gets to his destination."

For these reasons, He is a Most Magnificent Man, and an inspiration to all those who he encounters.

Andrew Aranda

CEO and founder of Pure Plumbing & Air, and The Modern Day Tradesman, Andrew Aranda, has dedicated his life to bringing respect back to the trades. Growing up in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and being a 4th generation plumber, Andrew saw the struggles that his blue-collar brothers faced daily. They were seen as dirty, unkept and untrustworthy members of society. However, Andrew was not raised in a family of stereotypical plumbers and his dreams of changing the views of the industry began.

In 2013 Andrew and his wife Alexis opened the doors to Pure Plumbing in Las Vegas, Nevada with the mission to protect the health of the Nation while delivering phenomenal service. They envisioned every technician representing PURE's standards and core values to provide customers with a remarkable experience. Pure is not like any other company, their expert technicians and friendly office staff have worked together to build an empire that is ready to serve the community. From the helpful voice you hear when you first call, to the moment the technician leaves their customers home, Pure Plumbing & Air's service is PHENOMENAL! Contrary to the industry stereotype, their customers do not feel taken advantage of by their plumbers. They are happily served and guided to making the best decision for their home and family and know they are in good hands. After multiple successes, outstanding reputation, and stellar awards & accolades, Pure Plumbing has expanded their services to Plano, Texas and recently added heating and A/C services in Las Vegas!

Along with the growth of his business, Andrew's passion has expanded to educating and mentoring the next generation of tradesmen. Whether you are a plumber, HVAC technician, electrician, or anything in between, The Modern Day Tradesman focuses on bringing unity and pride amongst these industries. The brand has amassed a following of like-minded individuals on platforms such as Instagram and Facebook. You can find Andrew sharing his wisdom and foresight to real-life situations the blue-collar community faces every day. Andrew's continues inspiring young people to be proud to be a tradesman, and the true honor it is to serve their communities. The brand is much more than t-shirts and keychains. It is a lifestyle and a community of blue-collar workers that are often overlooked.

Reflections on Becoming a US Citizen

The child of Greek parents, Constantino Anastassiou was born and raised in Belgium. Never feeling a true attachment to either Belgium or Greece, he felt he didn't belong to either country. "I was resigned to think, it didn't matter. I was a foreigner no matter where I was going."

In 1994, Constantino migrated to the US, settling down in Las Vegas, NV.

"I have always had my own business even in Europe, but the ease and advantages this country provides in giving you the independence to be yourself and promote your business on your own terms, is an approach that I've never experienced anywhere else."

For Constantino, he was living the American Dream.

"I was living in the US as a non-citizen, as I wanted to keep some form of loyalty to my family and my heritage."

But two markers influenced a new perspective. The first was the controversial 2020 US Presidential Elections, the second was the fact that in 2022 he will have lived in the US for the same amount of time he lived in Europe.

"I have a closer attachment to the US. I've lived here longer as an adult than any other place. I have more memorable experiences here, and when it comes to the constructive and creative capacity that I've had here, I don't remember having that anywhere else. I wanted to be part of something bigger, becoming a citizen was the opportunity to do that."

"Going through the process of becoming a US citizen, I truly understand the gift and privilege of living here and being a business owner. As I walked out of the swearing in ceremony, a sense of elation swept over me. The brightness and the beauty of the country was intensified. I thought, this place is beautiful on so many levels, not just geographical beauty, but in everything that has been done. It felt great, it's the first time that I belonged somewhere, and someplace made me hers. Twenty-nine years after arriving, I have a country I can call my own. I belong here. Now, I am not just living the American Dream, I am an American!"

LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL... WITH A HEALTHY SPINE

Over the years, The Neck and Back Clinics has grown into a well-rounded and incredibly experienced team. Let's meet the CEO and COO

DR. BENJAMIN S. LURIE, DC

Dr. Benjamin S. Lurie's, chiropractic physician and CEO of The Neck and Back Clinics, story begins right here in 1969 as a native of our city. As Las Vegas has exponentially grown, so has The Neck and Back Clinics. Dr. Lurie and his amazing staff have been caring for patients, including personal injury and workman's compensation.

After rising through valley schools as a scholarship athlete and leaving Las Vegas to continue his education from obtaining his B.S. in Zoology from SUU, then to Iowa, he returned to our great State after graduating from Palmer College of Chiropractic as a Doctor in Chiropractic. While attending Palmer, Dr. Lurie was awarded the top Clinical Excellence Award and two Certificates of Merit for student teaching Neuromusculoskeletal and Technique. Dr. Lurie served as a member of the school's ethics Board as a student member from 1996 – 2000. He obtained his Certificate in Spinal Trauma from Life West University and has an advanced Certificate in Whiplash and Biomechanics from the Spine Research Institute of San Diego, Dr. Arthur Croft.

Dr. Lurie served on the Chiropractic Board of Physicians from 2010-2018 and served in all leadership positions. Dr. Lurie served as the legislative chair of the CPBN. Dr. Lurie served as the district IV director of the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Twice, Dr. Lurie received an award for Board of the Year from the FCLB. Dr. Lurie is a board member for Boys and Girls Club of Southern Nevada. Dr. Lurie currently serves on the Southern Nevada Disciplinary Committee for the Nevada State Bar as a lay member.

DR. MATTHEW C. OLMSTEAD, DC

As a chiropractic physician and COO of The Neck and Back Clinics, Dr. Matthew C. Olmstead has been practicing since 2003. Throughout the last eighteen years at The Neck and Back Clinics, Dr. Olmstead's role has evolved. He now manages clinic operations for eight locations in Nevada and two locations in Arizona. NASH (NON ALCOHOLIC STEATOHEPATITIS)

WHAT IS FATTY LIVER DISEASE?

NASH (Non Alcoholic SteatoHepatitis) is the medical term for this devastating disease which not too many people know about yet is on the rise affecting more than 25 percent of the U.S. population. NASH is caused when too much fat is built up in the liver causing inflammation and damage. It is a result of a condition called nonalcoholic fatty liver disease, which can get worse and cause scarring of the liver, leading to cirrhosis. It is a silent killer, usually without any symptoms and the fastest-growing reason for liver transplants in America, especially in women and the elderly. NASH tends to affect people who are overweight, have diabetes, under-active thyroid (hypothyroidism), high blood pressure, high cholesterol or high triglycerides. However, some people have NASH even if they do not have any risk factors, and patients may remain unaware of their liver condition, which can progress to more serious disease. Once there is an overabundance of excess fat accumulation in the liver, more complications arise such as chronic inflammation and a higher risk of death from cardiovascular disease. NASH is one of the leading causes of cirrhosis in adults in the United States.

It is important to get screened for fatty liver with FibroScan especially if you have any one of the risk factors including diabetes, obesity, high cholesterol, or high blood pressure. In my opinion, FibroScan should be part of annual physical check-ups for people with these risk factors. We offer it for free without any physician referral. Currently there are no FDA-approved prescribed medications to treat NASH. However, it is FDA-approved through clinical trials. We offer this treatment without charge with compensation for time and travel. Visit our website to sign up for an appointment today.

NASH may lead to cirrhosis of the liver, it is important to get an early diagnosis and aim for prevention of NAFLD/NASH with Fibroscan screening, as treatment is available through clinical trials only.

Visit our website for eligibility to sign up for this treatment without charge, and compensation for time and travel.

10 CHAMPIONS ACADEMY ITALIAN SOCCER ACADEMY BRINGS PROFESSIONAL COACHES AND WORLD CUP WINNERS TO THE LAS VEGAS COMMUNITY

10 Champions Academy Italian Soccer Academy Brings Professional Coaches and World Cup Winners to the Las Vegas Community

Our "10 Champions Academy" is an Italian soccer Academy fully operated by former professional players and professional coaches including some World Cup winners. The Academy is established in Italy since 2019. The technical director is Marco Esposito, former Italian Serie A player, former Liverpool F.C. Academy Manager, and former coach of the Italian Serie A team of A.C. Monza. Aside from other former Italian Serie A players our coaching staff also includes:

REALVEGASMAGAZINE.COM

MARCO MATERAZZI:

- FIFA World Cup "Germany 2006" Champion with Italy National Team. In this 2006 Final he was the MVP, scoring the only Italian goal, scoring the penalty kick in the extra time and being head butted by Zinedine Zidane (one of the best football players in the football history) in what later became one of the most World Cup history iconic moments.
- UEFA Champions League winner (2010) and FIFA Club World Cup Champion (2010).

CRISTIAN STELLINI:

- Former Italian professional player and now professional coach. He is actually the assistant coach of Antonio Conte at the English Premier League team of Tottenham Hotspur.

CRISTIAN ZENONI:

- Former Italian Serie A player. He played for Italian top clubs like F.C. Juventus and A.C. Milan. 2002/2003 UEFA Champions League runner-up and former Italy National Team player.

In November 2021 the "10 Champions Academy" opened its branch in Las Vegas.

The academy is not a club, it is a training academy. They have Las Vegas players from local clubs coming to their academy with the goal of improving themselves and experiencing what a real professional soccer environment looks like.

They have coaches from overseas rotating every month, so their players have the chance to learn and attain the best working knowledge from each of the professional coaches' expertise.

The Academy is open from Monday to Friday from 4pm to 7pm at Big League Dreams

3151 E Washington Ave. - Las Vegas, NV 89101 and on Monday/Wednesday/Thursday from 3:30pm to 5:30pm at the YMCA, located at 4141 Meadows Ln, Las Vegas, NV 89107.

The 1st camp with Marco Materazzi took place in Las Vegas in November 2021. Las Vegas players had the chance to practice with Materazzi for a 5-day high-end soccer program. The camp took place in 2022 from November 28th to December 2nd.

Our Champions were hosted to the "ToRadio" radio station during the "Suonare Galliano" program with Elena Galliano.

In June 2022 a selection of our Academy's Champions went to Europe for the "10 Champions Academy - Italian Tour 2022". They spent a couple of days in London to watch the "Finalissima" game at Wembley Stadium between Italy and Argentina from the UEFA sky box, and they spent 2 days with Cristian Stellini visiting the Tottenham Hotspur Training center and the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium.

After that they went to Italy where they spent 10 days training at "Novarello" which is the youth Italy National teams headquarter and they had the chance to play friendly games against some youth teams of the Italian Serie A clubs including A.C. MILAN - ATALANTA CALCIO - F.C. VENEZIA and A.C. MONZA.

They had the chance to have their physicals at the J-Medical (Juventus F.C. Medical Center - the same where Cristiano Ronaldo had his physicals), they visited Milan and they have the chance to have lunch with several soccer legends like Javier Zanetti (Argentina National Team former captain, etc.). You can view all the pictures on our website: 10championsacademy.com

In August, in addition to our field's players Academy we opened the goalkeepers Academy under the "Buffon Academy" brand, and we held the 1st "Buffon Academy Camp" ever in the United States. The Academy belongs to the goalkeeper legend Gianluigi Buffon who is considered the best goalkeeper of football history. Our Academy is the exclusive developer of the "Buffon Academy" in the US and in January we will open the permanent goalkeeper's Academy as well.

From November 28th to December 1st, we will host the 2nd "10 Champions Academy Camp with Marco Materazzi" and local players will have again the chance to be trained by a real-World Champion, in the exact same period of the FIFA World Cup in Qatar. There will also be an open day with Marco Materazzi set for Sunday November 27th. Then directly following In January, the "Buffon Academy" will open the permanent goalkeeper's Academy. In May there will be the selection of our Academy Champions to travel to Italy for the second time for the "10 Champions Academy - Italian Tour 2023".

A special thank you to our gracious host and owner of the private estate, Maria Miuccio, Chef Maurice of Diamond Events Productions, Chef Vic Vegas as our local celebrity guest EMCEE for the evening, DJ Sheepxwolf of Las Vegas Mobile DJ's, Tyra Bell Holland of Ava Rose Agency, Dueling Axes for sponsoring the date night experience, Mike Rantissi of Mimosa Royale, Michael W. Rogers Photography for all the amazing photos you captured of the event, Chicago Brewing Company for the keg of their famous All Nighter Golden Ale, and lastly to all the incredible male auctioneers who agreed to participate in the event to help raise money for a great cause!
